Trutwin, Report production manager.

Other Contributors: In recognition that many individuals support the diverse activities necessary to complete the Report and conduct its intensive peer review, both agencies recognize individuals from the District's Environmental Monitoring and Assessment Department, who provided essential data analyses and technical assessments for multiple chapters and appendices: Tim Bechtel, Larry Fink, Guy Germain, Steven Hill, Nenad Iricanin, Cheol Mo, Richard Pfeuffer and Darren Rumbold. In addition, the following individuals from the District's Environmental Monitoring and Assessment Department are acknowledged for their vital assistance in conducting the peer review and public workshops: Andrea Carlton, Linda Davis, Barbara Dickey, Trudy Morris and Mary Skinner.

The District's Garth Redfield, Report editor, manages the Report development process in association with Gary Goforth and Kirk Burns. These editors work closely with Frank Nearhoof of the Florida Department of Environment Protection's Water Quality Standards and Special Projects Program to coordinate the creation of this joint product. This large, multidisciplinary Report could not be produced without the thoughtful oversight of senior management. In particular, the effective leadership of Naomi Duerr, Debra Azeredo, Linda Lindstrom, Jan Loftin and Emilio Vazquez from the District, and Jerry Brooks from the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, are gratefully acknowledged.
